A CTION OF THE CENTRAL AND HUDSON RIVER
At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, held on the list day of June, 1873,
The death of Horace F. Clark, a member of the Board, having been announced, it was ordered that the followinc he entered monthe minutes, and that a copy thereof, signed by the proper officers of this company, be transin the death of the company of the company of the conin the death of the company of the c no doubt, led to the event they are now met to consider.

An carnest participator in everything relating to progress, an officer in the various companies forming the line of railroads connecting the Atlantic with the Pacific-reaching from ocean to ocean—crossing our entire country, and the master spirit in many of them; with a ready comprehension of the complicated questions and relations incidental thereto, a fertility of mind and capacity for adaptation that never failed, great, indeed, is the space made vacant by his death.

A man and a gentleman—a true and a steadfast friend. What more can be said!

To those who were bound to their late associate by '! e closer ties of blood and kindred, the members of this Board give, individually, their carnest sympathy, and sadly put on record this tribute to the memory of Horaco F. Clark.
